

Yale New Haven Health saves millions with DataArk

While co-presenting at HIMSS19, Yale New Haven Health's SVP and CIO, Lisa Stump, shared her business case for applying an enterprise active archiving strategy to decommission legacy systems across her organization after consolidating EMRs.

Compared to the cost of its annual legacy system support fees, moving healthcare legacy data to an active data archiving platform saves Yale New Haven Health more than $2.5 million each year!

Source: Achieving Legacy System Retirement and Data Consolidation, HIMSS19

Annual Cost Savings

